No. 1827 –PAR(IAS)/5C-08/21

Dated. 26/11/2021

NOTIFICATION

Subject: Engagement of Senior Consultants / Consultants in different Departments of the Government of West Bengal for better governance and promoting the all round development of the people of the State.

1. With passage of time, the welfare-oriented governance has been gradually becoming more challenging and holding out better promises because of the rapid technological advances. The paramount need for permanent bureaucracy has been and will be there to ensure continuity of policies and play the role of essential supervision and co-ordination among different stake holders in governance as well as in implementation of different people-centric projects in welfare State. But, because of the unprecedented technological advances in different areas having strong bearing on socio-economic welfare of the people, the need for specialists and experts in domain knowledge is felt no less.

2. These experts with their specialized qualification and focused concentration on specific domains are likely to enrich the governmental system in better conceptualizing the needs and aspirations of people and suggesting the means of fulfilling the same with a visionary approach. Utilising the expertise and experience of the specialists in the corporate sector would make the development-oriented administration more vibrant, responsive and future-ready.

3. Also the best practices of the corporate sector are likely to make the governmental system more result-oriented with the optimum utilization of resources. Hiring of talents from the corporate world is likely to infuse better dynamism in the working of the Government.

4. Talents from the corporate sector may be utilised in the Government sector through hiring of Senior Consultants / Consultants on a contractual basis. It appears that hiring of such Senior Consultants / Consultants with domain knowledge specific to the business of different Departments will usher in paving the path for innovative ways in addressing the needs and aspirations of people in keeping pace with time. These Senior Consultants / Consultants may advise about chalking out the strategy for responsive and value-based execution of different schemes of the Government. While the selection of the Senior Consultants / Consultants may be based on their expertise and experience, the continuation of the engagement may be based on continuous appraisal of their performance.

5. Accordingly, after consultation with different departments as regards the needs for such Senior Consultants / Consultants and the areas of their activities and the qualification required, the Governor is pleased to accord approval towards engagement of 50 (fifty) posts of Senior Consultants / Consultants in the different Departments of the Government as per details below:
